Prevent Child Abuse in Oregon with the Children’s Trust Fund

Why support the Children’s Trust Fund?

12,585 Children were confirmed victims of abuse in Oregon last year.

1 of 2 were under the age of 6. Victims of child abuse are more likely to have mental health, substance abuse, and medical issues later in life.

Every child deserves a great childhood.

We support 36 programs serving 41,000 parents and children each year.

100% of your tax deductible donation goes straight toward helping new parents receive training and support. There are 0 administrative deductions. We rigorously assess each program so that you can be confident in donating with us.

What your gift will support

$40 per pay period supports 20 families receiving one home visit

$25 per pay period supports 10 home visits for a family at risk for abuse.

$10 per pay period supports therapeutic services for 2 children at risk of abuse

$5 per pay period supports 2 parents enrolled in parenting classes

Help Oregon’s children get the best start in life.

Being a Parent is Tough

Lots of parents in Oregon struggle with the hard job of raising kids. Parenting can challenge any family, particularly those with other stressors.

Oregon Parents are Asking for Help

Being a great parent takes patience, dedication, skill — and help. Thousands across Oregon are seeking help to learn how to be a better parent.

Helping Parents is the Best Help for Kids

Children can thrive when parents get the training and support they need to fill the gaps in their parenting skills.

Your Financial Gift Keeps Kids Safe

Because of donations to the Children’s Trust Fund, kids in our communities can be safe and nurtured in their families, ready for learning and success. Giving to the Children's Trust Fund supports Home Visiting Services, Parenting Support and Education.
Protect and Nurture Oregon Kids

Struggling parents in Oregon are stepping forward every day, asking for the tools and training to do better for their kids. When parents are ready for help, it’s the best time to support successful childhoods and prevent child abuse and trauma among Oregon kids.

Join community-based organizations around the state and the Children’s Trust Fund of Oregon in providing parent education and support for parents seeking help.

Home Visiting Programs work with families whose children are at-risk for trauma. Voluntary services are individualized to address the unique needs and culture of each family. The program teaches parents what to expect of their children at different ages, and also models positive parenting behavior.

Relief Nursery Programs provide a unique array of comprehensive family support services that are accessible to struggling parents. From crisis response, to therapeutic classrooms, to alcohol and drug recovery support, Relief Nursery staff work to support family success and keep children safe from abuse and neglect.

Parenting Education & Family Support Programs strengthen parenting skills, help parents with stress management, and provide information on healthy child development. Education classes and activities are community-based and voluntary, making them accessible to parents seeking support.

Advocacy & Research Advocacy raises awareness on the importance of supporting families and leverages state and federal funding for evidence-based programs that reduce child abuse and neglect. Research on the risk-factors that lead to abuse and neglect as well as on the success rate of prevention programs informs funding and advocacy.
